Reliable Cable Connections between diverse OEM equipment

Establishing interconnects and connectivity between your product and the customer's existing equipment is key to the success of the evaluation. You can be confident that our reliable cables will enable the interoperability needed to improve the presentation and close the sale.

Use our products to:

- Multiply the device's analog output to create simultaneous connections to a host of devices for displaying ECG & Blood pressure waveforms.
- Solve unique interconnect problems including adapting existing cables to accommodate new or changing equipment.
- Achieve data connectivity to EMR Systems.
- Provide Nurse Call Relay connections between the equipment at the patient bedside and the wall jack to the central nurse's station.
